Give uber a chance for their taxi license before you revoke their status in South Carolina. It's a good, safe alternative to over priced taxis in any given area!

To Whom it May Concern:

I am writing to voice my concern at the South Carolina Public Service Commission's order for Uber to cease and desist operations in the state. As a Charleston County resident, I use this service often and believe it to be a safe, reliable, helpful alternative to the unreliable, outdated taxi system in this area. This service is invaluable in terms of the safety and convenience that it provides for South Carolina residents, and I strongly urge you to repeal the cease and desist order and allow Uber to continue operations throughout the state.

Sincerely,

Justin Miklas

I have used "cabs" in the city loads of times but never with the satisfaction and feeling of safety as when I started using Uber. We need to keep them in business! If nothing else, they provide competition and an incentive for regular "cabs" to clean up their act.

The state that leads the country in alcohol related accidents needs Uber. A safe, affordable and reliable mode of transportation.

I was in Charleston with my boat this October and used Uber many times. Taxis are unreliable, dirty and generally don't care about service - that model is passe and the value of a non-working taxi medallion owner is done. Uber is the future. Who are we kidding when you ban Uber. We know the taxi medallion owners have you in their pockets, financially. Do the right thing and support innovation, quality and the consumer of these rides!
